

Season Ticket and Fundraising Agents

We are currently seeking highly driven, creative, and, passionate music lovers who are committed to sell subscriptions to our riveting 1718 season on behalf of The Philadelphia Orchestra. Staff will be cross trained in fundraising techniques as well, and, at times during year will be fundraising for the upcoming fiscal year.

- Pay is hourly plus commission and we offer many different opportunities to earn additional cash bonuses.
- Fun professional atmosphere. Pizza for goals met, as well as, opportunities to attend select Orchestra performances for free are frequent.
- Easy access to public transportation. Office is located in the Academy House at 1420 Locust Street, Suite 350 in the Center City area right next to the Academy of Music
- No Cold Calling
- Ability to work a minimum 20 hours per week –mix and match evening and afternoon to design a schedule that works for you.

Be prepared to join an outstanding staff that supports one of the top-tiered orchestras in the world. Our expectations for this position are one of excellence, ethics, and attendance.

Suggested Skills/ Background

- High School diploma
- Previous sales, fundraising, appointment setting or telesales experience is a plus. Strong closers are encouraged to apply. Goal orientation and a strong desire to learn and succeed is a must
- Professional, courteous, and, caring telephone manner to conduct high-quality conversations with current and previous subscribers.
- Impeccable ethics
- Basic Computer skills

Make the call! This is a great part-time position for a worthy cause.

CALL WARREN NOW!

215-893-1869.

Please do not fax applications or apply via email to the POA Human Resources Dept for this position. To be considered, you must call the number above.

Unlike other positions posted for the orchestra, this campaign is being conducted by SD&A Teleservices, a professional fundraising and sales vendor for charitable causes and performing arts organizations.