

The Philadelphia Orchestra School Concerts

Inclement Weather Policy

The Philadelphia Orchestra has a very strict policy regarding the cancellation of concerts due to inclement weather. To cancel a performance, the Orchestra requires that the city of Philadelphia declare a state of emergency, not just a snow emergency.

The Orchestra also has a very strict no-refund policy. However, all available measures will be taken to reschedule any missed performances due to weather. To check the status of a Philadelphia Orchestra School Concert, please call the School Concert Hotline at 215.893.3157 prior to the performance.

Thank you for your understanding.